Policy Statement of Anti-Trust Compliance

The Southeastern Home Office Underwriters Association (SEHOUA) is an association of individual members that participate on a voluntary basis. Our annual meetings and committee meetings provide the opportunity for employees of competing insurance companies to come together for the purpose of education and advancing the knowledge of sound underwriting of life and health risks.

It is the policy of the SEHOUA that its membership complies with the letter and spirit of anti-trust laws. Our meetings are not intended to permit or appear to permit any policy or agreement that is intended to restrict or compromise fair competition in the marketplace. Price fixing in any form will not be suggested in any SEHOUA meeting forum. Participants in our programs must completely refrain from any appearance of price fixing by recommending others follow their ratings for specific impairments or other specific insurance related procedures.

We at the SEHOUA embrace the principles of fairness to our current and prospective insureds and are fully dedicated to the sole purpose of promoting knowledge and learning so that we may better serve the customer.

History

The Association owes much to many for its very being. If it had not been for other regional groups already in existence and their willingness to share, it might never have been organized. If it had not been for interested and dedicated individuals within the southeast, it would surely never have been organized. If it had not been for local organizations willing to sacrifice time and effort, it would have been much more difficult to organize.

Plans begin before dates are recorded. Work is done without plans for measuring it. Individuals who may be most instrumental in the success of an organization sometimes remain anonymous by chance or by desire. Thanks to all – named and unnamed – who contributed in their various ways.

Following perhaps a year of more or less formalized planning activity, members of some 14 companies met in Atlanta, Georgia on November 7, 1972 to decide on a name, a constitution, a date and a place.

Many meetings, phone calls and letters later, the Association met for its inaugural meeting and program held May 24-25, 1973 at Atlanta International Hotel in Atlanta, Georgia. Sixty-seven companies were represented and some 150 people were in attendance.
